The Collect.

God of all whose love reaches out to all humanity, give us grace to do your will, and share in the mission of your church, which is enlightening all who will receive your words of wisdom and care; this we ask in the everliving Christ name. Amen.

The Epistle for the 12th Sunday after Trinity is from the recorded words of St. Germaine.

Let all brethren unite for the glorious victory of the Christ, for the second coming of the Christ and the coming of the gracious messengers through the ages. Let the true understanding of the east and west be the forte of the true godly people. Let the souls who love the truth and pure, re-acquaint themselves with the Mother Cosmos, and nourished by the Mother Cosmos let these souls raise the torch of truth and learning so that all may see the light. Let this light reveal the true gospel of learning, delivering to the hearts of all people the understanding of the one true source of every being.

Here Endeth The Epistle.

The Gospel for the 12th Sunday after Trinity is from the words of Rudolph Steiner.

The supreme mystery of the age in which we are now living is the second coming of the Christ. We are now able to grasp a different aspect of spiritual science. We realize that it is a preparation for the new appearance of the Christ. The Christed one will appear, and all humanity will raise itself to meet the Avatar. People will develop the ability to see etheric bodies and they will grow in a world where the Christ force will be revealed to their higher senses. There will then be many eye witnesses to the reality of the Christ energies and many will recognise this fact. Just as Paul at Damascus was convinced at the time that this was the Christ --- so will these be, those whose experiences in the etheric world will convince all others, that in very truth the Christ lives.

Praise Be to Thee O Christ.
