

MISCELLANEOUS ESOTERIC INFORMATION

Did you know that in the old temples of Jerusalem, the Priests and Priestesses never cut their hair, and they coiled it up in either clockwise or anti clockwise fashion depending on the ritual they wished to perform. Each direction creates a different energy flow of cosmic energy into the body, which is quite often the same energy that is sent to us in the Mass ritual. It all depends on the celebrant's desire, and the ritual performed as to fine tuning the energy.

Did you know that your personality is written in your birth date. You can also find your psychic centre that you use to enter and exit your body during Astral travelling. There is much other information in your birth date that can be obtained.

Did you know that in the last few seconds of your life you will have a quick resume of all your life? This is the original basis of the saying MY LIFE FLASHED BEFORE MY EYES when you have an almost fatal experience. It matters not whether you are insane, have Alzheimers or any other problem, all will experience the last moments of their life in a lucid state of remembering their full experiences.

Did you know Jesus spoke twelve languages fluently without a trace of any other accent, and could also make himself understood in many more?

Did you know that Joseph of Arimithea (the uncle of Jesus) was a billionaire, and the rest of the family were very rich also? Such fallacies as the family being poor are lies created by the Church fathers to try and make Jesus look more mysterious. There is much evidence to this fact within the bible if one cares to look.

Did you know that your hair is "antennae" that brings psychic intuition and clairvoyance into the physical body? It also enhances the receptors of the Body like better hearing, sight, etc. Scientific investigation and testing by USA military found that native Indian trackers that cut their hair lose their tracking ability. This puts a new picture on Sampson's ability to ingest physical strength into his body, from the psychic level.

Did you know that a Mass performed in the AM hours will have the assistance of the cosmic forces to bring divine energy into the Holy Sacrament? A Mass in the PM hours will give a much lower level of divine energy into the Sacrament. The Church fathers of old knew this and this is why for centuries the Mass was always conducted in the AM hours.

Did you know Mary (correct name Miriam) the Mother of Jesus was also a virgin birth, thus making Jesus twice purified in body for his work as Avatar. John the Baptist was also a virgin birth.

Did you know the reason for saying grace before meals --- it was to offer a blessings and prayer for the consciousness of the plant or animal that supplied the food.

Did you know that Jesus was a Master in the Egyptian mysteries, and that he served high initiations by placing his astral self into the great chamber of the big pyramid? The big pyramid was never a tomb for any pharaoh, but had many other reasons for its existence. The age of the big pyramid (contrary to popular belief) is nearer 80,000 years old than the historical registered fact of approx 5000 years. The pyramid was built by the Atlanteans who colonised Egypt at the time.

Did you know that Pythagoras re-incarnated as St Francis, one of the three wise men, Johann Sebastian Bach, and the theosophical Master Kuthumi. These (among others) were voluntary incarnations to assist the development of humanity in their evolution to gain higher levels of their Souls.

Did you know that Jesus and his Mother Mary had red hair?

Are you aware that St Francis of Assisi was a brilliant mathematician and also an astrologer of uncanny ability that rivalled (and possibly surpassed) that of Nostradamus.

Did you know that Jesus was a pagan? He and his family, John the Baptist, many of the disciples were all Essenes. That information is well recorded, but what is not well known is that the Essenes were simply Jews who were Druids, and the Church has hidden this fact for centuries to claim "sole ownership" of Jesus. Jesus was actually respected in the Judean, and Hannifi traditions (hannifi being the esoteric school tradition from which Mohammed came). Mention of the prophet Mohammed being an outcast Christian Cardinal is erroneous, but Mohammed was a Qatan in the Hannifi which is the same rank as cardinal in Christian circles. Islam as taught by Mohammed was compatible with Christianity and they certainly were NOT at loggerheads with each other, until human intervention into the teachings of both sides was provided over periods of time.

Did you know that the first mention of a trinity was at the Church of Antioch in 170AD? The reference of the then Patriarch Theonysious was to Logos, Son and Sophia. This represents in today's liturgies Logos = (Father, Power, Active, Positive), Son = (Son, Result, Love, Neutral, Neutral), Sophia = (Holy Spirit, Mother, Wisdom, Passive, Negative), these are exactly the same as Father, Son and Holy Spirit. This creates a trinity of energies. You can see Father as male, Son as the neutral result of male and female energies mixing physically, and Holy Spirit as the Female side. N.B. the mention of positive and negative are polarity comparisons, NOT meaning one is better than the other, but simply of opposite polarity.

Jesus studied under the tutelage of a Druid Arch Mage in England when he was a teenager visiting England with his uncle Joseph of Arimethea, who often traded with the Druids for tin from their mines in Cornwall and Wales. Jesus spoke twelve languages fluently.

Pythagoras the great mathematician learned Astrology from French Druids at the time when England ruled the northern section of France. All the Astrological information Pythagoras obtained was charted in England. This is known by the fact that only from there could these angles and readings be obtained with such accuracy. These Druids also were the original imparters of astrological knowledge to the Hebrews as the source of the book of Enoch in the Holy Writings. This is verified by old written texts that have been sought out by quite a few scholars of great repute.

The psychic chakras of the body were known to the Hebrews at least 2000 years BC. There is evidence that Moses among others knew about these 8 centres but Moses also knew of the existence of the aura centre too. The Aura actually then made the ninth centre. Old documents depicting these facts also go back to Ancient Mesopotamia among other places. Sumerian records also show these centres depicting the Garden of Eden. This has been acknowledged by the highly respected author Butterworth whose scholastic integrity and ability is beyond Question.

The original church building design was done to strict proportions of the human body. The Sanctuary was exactly the proportion of the head and rest of the church was seven times that of the sanctuary. If the human body is measured properly you will see the measurement of the head is three times the distance from top of head to navel, and five times the distance from the navel to the feet. Thus old church distances were sanctuary = 1 head. Chancel = 3 heads (including sanctuary as part of chancel), and nave being 5 heads. These measurements were strictly adhered to in the original Christian churches.

Personal Measurements Of The Human Body. Note the lines generated by the tight folding of the index finger. If one takes the top of these lines and measures then carefully, they will divide exactly 72 times into the person's height. This is regarded as the personal inch of a person. Thus it can be seen that to measure any person's finger can reveal their exact height if this is done very accurately. I have no doubt that many will now try this and see for themselves, but I stipulate they must be very careful and accurate in their measurement. Far easier to measure your height and divide 72 into it and see the finger measurement.
